To benefit Insurance Students at The University of Iowa, insurance companies and agents alike will soon be engaged in a battle for talent. Help insure the talent pipeline is full by supporting this event. All proceeds will be distributed to students seeking education and a career path in the insurance industry in the form of scholarships and internships.

The Emmett J. Vaughan Institute of Risk Management Insurance was launched in January of 2005 as part of The University of Iowa's Tippie College of Business. Since that time enrollment in insurance classes has increased steadily. Today, over 300 students are enrolled in insurance courses. The Institute has been established in the tradition of Dr. Vaughan, who taught insurance and established The University of Iowa as one of the two major insurance programs in the country.
