

Angela Noble
Director, Behavioral Insurance Strategic Planning & Initiatives
John Hancock Insurance

Angela Noble has over twenty years of professional experience and is a respected leader with expertise in strategic development and execution, organizational change management, program management, marketing, communications, claims, underwriting and innovation.

Currently, Angela serves as Director, Behavioral Insurance Strategic Planning & Initiatives, where she is responsible for driving behavioral insurance strategy and managing North America portfolio-level project statuses, risks, and issues across digital and customer leadership initiatives in which behavioral insurance plays a key role. Angela leads a team of talented professionals that work within a complex environment of multiple interconnected programs and stakeholders.

Angela was selected as a 2017 Des Moines Business Record Forty Under 40 honoree, a 2021 Elite Woman by Insurance Business America, a Hot 100 2022 by Insurance Business America, and 2021 Mentor of the Year by Rising Insurance Star Executives (RISE). Angela serves on the Vaughan Institute Advisory Board at the University of Iowa, the Dean's Advisory Board at the University of Northern Iowa, the Editorial Content Advisory Committee for Digital Insurance, and the Advisory Board for Rising Insurance Star Executives. Previously, she served on the Advisory Councils for Plug & Play Tech Center, the InsurTech Center of Excellence and on the board of the Global Insurance Accelerator.