

Eugenio Gonzalez

Eugenio is an early-stage venture capital investor at Plug and Play Ventures, focused on the areas of InsurTech, FinTech, AI, Cybersecurity, and enterprise software. At Plug and Play, Eugenio leads the InsurTech vertical as well as spearheads Plug and Play's Financial Services Fund.

Eugenio joined Plug and Play from Carey, the largest law firm in Chile, where he led investments and M&A transactions across banks and financial institutions.

At Carey, Eugenio was centrally involved in the acquisition of a US-based bank by a Chilean bank and established major technology and strategic partnership relationships. Eugenio started his career at Philippi, in Corporate Law.

Eugenio has an MBA from MIT Sloan, where he collaborated with Boston-based VCs and startups, and a JD from Universidad de Chile.
