

Devin Johnson is currently a Compensation Consultant with International Paper. In this role he supports Salaried Rewards across multiple areas and functions: corporate staff groups, paper mill system, Variable Compensation planning, Supply Chain & IT, and College Relations. He also has experience as an HR Manager at several International Paper mills. Prior to his career with International Paper Devin served on active duty with the Army in a Signals Intelligence role with 5th Special Forces Group(A).

Devin holds a bachelor's degree in Political Science from the University of Iowa, an Associate's Degree in Arabic Language from the Defense Language Institute, and a Master's of Business Administration from Vanderbilt University.

In his free time, Devin enjoys hiking, bicycling, paddle boarding, traveling, spending time with his nieces and nephew, and cheering for the Iowa Hawkeyes.