

Frederick J. Crawford

Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer
Aflac Incorporated

Frederick J. Crawford is executive vice president and chief financial officer with Aflac Incorporated. He moved to Columbus, Georgia, from Indianapolis in June 2015 to join Aflac where he is responsible for overseeing the financial management of company operations. He brings nearly three decades of financial and leadership experience to Aflac.

Before joining Aflac, Fred served as executive vice president and chief financial officer of CNO Financial Group. Prior to that, he spent more than a decade at the Lincoln Financial Group serving in roles of progressive responsibility, including executive vice president and chief financial officer as well as leading corporate development and investments. Before joining Lincoln Financial Group, he held leadership positions at Bank One Corporation.

Fred received his B.A. from Indiana State University and an MBA from the University of Iowa.

While in Indianapolis, Fred was active in the community, serving on the boards of United Way of Central Indiana and the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. Since moving to Columbus, Fred has joined the board and the finance and investment committee for the Community Foundation of the Chattahoochee Valley.
