President

CIVCO Medical Solutions

Robin Therme is the president of CIVCO Medical Solutions, a leading global supplier of specialty medical devices with a mission to make image-guided procedures safer.

Therme joined CIVCO in 1991, when it was a founder-led privately held start-up, launched by a University of Iowa sonographer. Her first position was leading the company's marketing department and overseeing branding, promotions, PR, merchandising, and advertising. CIVCO enjoyed rapid growth, and Therme held leadership roles in OEM business development, international market expansion, and new product development. She was instrumental in several CIVCO strategic acquisitions, leading due diligence and integration efforts. She served as GM of CIVCO's MMI business unit and was the driver and executive sponsor overseeing the launch of CIVCO's first international manufacturing operation in Juarez, Mexico.

Therme was named CIVCO president in April 2017, embarking on an initiative to better define the company mission, vision, culture, and community engagement. Since then, CIVCO has been named the "Coolest Place to Work" by the Corridor Business Journal, and employee engagement scores, measured by Gallup, have reached world-class levels.

Therme is engaged in community activities and serves on the Iowa City Area Development (ICAD) Executive Leadership as well as the ICAD Board of Directors, The Iowa City Area Business Partnership board, The American Heart Association's Go Red for Women Executive Committee and Circle of Red Committee. CIVCO has been active in supporting local organizations including the Johnson County and Washington County United Way, Coralville Food Pantry, March of Dimes, and Shelter House.

Therme holds an MBA from the University of Iowa's Tippie College of Business and a BA from Iowa Wesleyan University where she was also on the women's basketball team. She and her husband Dave reside in Coralville.
