

Yvette D. Taylor

Senior Vice President, Wealth Management
The Northern Trust Company

Yvette Taylor has served as senior vice president within the Wealth Management business unit at Northern Trust since 2013. Northern Trust is a leading provider of asset management, fiduciary and banking service for affluent individuals and families. Evidenced by its higher than peer credit ratings and high quality balance sheet, Northern Trust consistently ranks as one of the strongest global financial institutions. Northern provides comprehensive Wealth Management services from 60 offices located in 18 states across North America, and Europe, the Middle East and the Asia Pacific regions.

Taylor has enjoyed a career primarily focused on banking and client service. Her current role is that of Central Region Manager of Northern's National Client Support Services Team. Taylor currently oversees processes and teams primarily focused on the account onboarding experience for Northern's Trust and Banking clients; and the execution of money movement transactions for Northern's Wealth Management clients. Taylor brings to her role, 26 years of progressive relationship management and process/team optimization experience. Before joining Northern Trust in 1999, she held relationship management roles in commercial banking, and leveraged finance at the former LaSalle National Bank and American National Bank of Chicago (JP Morgan Chase).

Taylor's management experience with Northern Trust includes assignments as Managing Director for two of Northern Trust's Financial Centers, and the development and management of Northern Trust's only Centralized Banking practice.

During her 20 year tenure with Northern Trust, Taylor has served as a member of Northern Trust's Wealth Management Fair Lending Committee, Northern Trust's Wealth Management Service Excellence Advisory Board, the Wealth Management Diversity and Inclusion Committee, and as a voting member of one of Wealth Management's credit committees.

Taylor holds a MBA from the University of Iowa and BBA in finance from Augustana College. She is also the former board chair of Demoiselle 2 Femme, a non-profit organization focused on providing holistic development solutions for at-risk young women (12-18 years old) in Chicago's Roseland and Englewood communities.

She and her husband Richard live in the south suburbs of Chicago with their two sons Richard, III and Christian. She spends her free time pursuing interests in fitness and running as well as attending her children's sporting events.
